

G'DAY FROM BANNOCK BRAE

NEWSLETTER 24

APR—MAY—JUNE 2012

KNOW WHERE IT COMES FROM...

It's so important these days to know where your food comes from, don't you think? Imported foods, the buy-out of Aussie brands by overseas companies and confusing labeling makes choosing Aussie-grown food a difficult task.

At Bannock Brae, we are fiercely proud of being 100% Aussie. Our tasty hormone-free beef is guaranteed Aussie - we know it 'cos we grow it!

We also grow all the hay and grain requirements to finish off our cattle consistently right here on the farm. And the healthy additives we put into our special grain mix are—you guessed it—local too! They come from a local Toowoomba company.

Our excess beef requirements are sourced from carefully selected local producers. So too are our tender lambs and juicy pork. We're all about supporting local farmers.

But it doesn't stop there. We use only the finest ingredients to make our sausages and smallgoods, the majority of these ingredients being manufactured right here in Queensland.

So as you can see, buying the Bannock Brae way is all about buying local, buying Aussie and supporting our Aussie farmers. It gives you peace of mind that you are buying the best for your family. After all you know the butcher and the farmer and where it comes from!

DOWN ON THE FARM....

Back to back good summer seasons have seen a mass of tasty grass covering the hills and the cattle are loving it. They are all looking fat and shiny and content.

The creek hasn't stopped flowing since the floods last year. Any easterly breeze brings the Cooby water over the spillway and meandering through our property. The boys have been "drowning a few worms (fishing, that is) and catching some beautiful yellowbelly.

Sorghum harvest is almost upon us and we are currently working to expand our grain storage capacity. This means that the boys will be busy concreting a silo base before a new silo arrives to be erected.

A few new recruits have joined us at Bannock Brae. Bonnie is a cute little kitten who is set to be our new mouser after our lovely old cat Tom met his match with a brown snake. And a beautiful new puppy, Ellie, who is a border collie cross kelpie. Meet her in our next edition!

COST OF LIVING—WHERE WILL IT STOP??

In recent times we have seen the cost of living escalate dramatically. From electricity bills and water access charges to rates and grocery bills—everything seems to go in one direction and that is UP! Perhaps this change of government will help ease the strain—let's hope so. At Bannock Brae, we realise how hard it is to juggle the cost of living. That's why we strive to keep our prices as affordable as we possibly can. We also have a range of options to suit every budget—from sides of beef to small weekly orders. And the best part is that our top quality products mean you won't be wasting your money on tough, tasteless meat. We aim to provide each and every family with the ability to buy top quality meat at affordable prices.

Check out our new "Too Easy" pack on the front of this newsletter. It's great value. And don't forget to check out our website—it has all our other great value packs on it. Check it out at

YEAR OF THE FARMER HEATS UP

2012 is officially the Year of the Farmer and Bannock Brae is set to become involved in more ways than one! The first opportunity to arise happens on April 28 at the local show in Goombungee. If you have never been to a Goombungee Show, now's your chance. It's a great little country show and this year Kieren comes up against some other young farmers in a Cooking Challenge set to showcase local produce. Needless to say, Kieren will be showcasing our tasty Bannock Brae Beef. Hope to see you there!

Cheers from the team @ BBM
